

The People's Column

You frequently hear someone who is uninformed say that "I would not send my child to a State school—I am going to send mine to a denominational school where he will be under Christian influence." The truth of the matter is the influences around a State school are equally as wholesome as at a denominational school, and in some instances they are better. The manner in which athletics are conducted at a school is a good index to the wholesome influences of the institution. During the past five years A. and M. College and the University of Texas are the only big schools in the State that have been absolutely free from suspicion of the charge of professionalism. At these schools athletes have to earn every cent from the institutions, directly or indirectly, and they never make more than $25 per month. At some of our North Texas denominational schools it has been proved that prominent business men give athletes jobs that pay from $60 to $100 per month, and in return the athletes do little or nothing. The merchants just charge it up to advertising. One denominational school offered an athlete who is now at the University of Texas $75 a month to paint the goal posts. The athletic situation at the denominational schools in Texas must be freed of professionalism or athletics will be doomed. Present practices at some of these schools not only ruin the sport but they do the boys a grave injustice.—A READER.

HOWELL TELLS FARMERS QUIT SELLING SEED

DUMPING ON MARKET OF SO MUCH COTTON PRODUCTS CAUSES PRICE DECLINE

J. Webb Howell, manager of the local oil mill makes the suggestion that farmers quit selling their cotton seed. "Cotton seed products are much below their intrinsic worth and if the farmers would stop selling their cotton seed at the prices they are now getting, the oil mills would not be forced to rush their products on the market at any old price the buyer offers."

"The farmer made too much cotton, along with a bounteous feed crop and with no cattle to feed creates no demand for hulls and meal."

"The buyer of cotton seed products believing that we will make another 16,000,000 bale crop he is in no hurry to buy our products only at a declining price."

"Everybody talks lower prices and with a rush to sell the offerings of cotton and its products is depressing the market unjustly."

"The hysteria of selling is running rampant with all classes and until we change our attitude we can expect a declining market."

"There never was a time when the farmer, banker, merchant and others should stop-look and listen. Just so long as the south raises 16,000,000 bale of cotton annually we can expect these conditions."

HOME BENEFIT ASS'N. TO ADD MANY MEMBERS

LOCAL CHAPTER OF RED CROSS MAKES PLEA FOR DONATIONS FOR FLORIDA STORM REGION

As the Red Cross workers in storm wrecked Florida proceed in their efforts to bring reconstruction to homes and families, the situation confronting them grows more grave and the number of dead and injured is now far beyond the first estimate made. As buildings are torn down and wreckage upturned, hundreds of dead bodies have been found, and many also who are not only injured and suffering, but starving for food and water. These must all be cared for, but that is not the whole story of the situation, the health of the entire city of Miami, is now endangered from the spread of typhoid fever and dysentery, following the congested sanitary conditions existing.

John Barton Payne, national chairman, gives out the official information that the American Red Cross needs $5,000,000 for relief work in the Florida section, and Wm. M. Baxter, Jr., manager of the Midwestern Branch A. R. C. advises the local secretary and treasurer that every county in Texas must respond nobly to meet the needs of these sufferers. The list of donations received in Bryan up to last Saturday night totalled only $35.50. Since that time Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Brown of College have sent their check for $10, bringing the amount to $45.50. Will you let the time pass without your contribution being added to this fund which means life to so many unfortunate people. Leave your contribution, no matter how small, at the City National Bank or the Eagle Office, immediately for the emergency calls.

Bryan Bankers Talk of Cotton

When questioned about the cotton situation in Texas, Bryan bankers expressed great concern, as follows:

J. N. Dulaney of the First State Bank: "If the bankers finance the cotton crop and hold part of it off the market, I believe it will help the situation."

H. O. Boatwright of the First National Bank: "I see where the farmers in the Rio Grande Valley are going to plow up their cotton. That must be a myth. It reminds me of several years ago when the farmers said they were going to burn their cotton. But it was the other fellow's cotton they were going to burn. However, if they would plow up enough cotton it surely would help the price."

W. H. Cole of the City National Bank: "The cotton situation is serious but I have been so busy that I hardly know what else I can think about it."

TAKING THE SCHOOLS OUT OF POLITICS

A. and M. College hopes to receive $200,000 from the Legislature, either during the special session or the January session, to take care of the overcrowded conditions. It is imperative that A. and M. receive this money, and it is generally believed that the Legislature will comply with the request.

This calls to mind the often discussed question of whether or not the control of A. and M. and the University of Texas, and other State schools of higher education should be taken out of the hands of the Legislature, or in other words, should our State schools be taken out of politics. It is popular to declare that they should, but we doubt the wisdom of this declaration. Our forefathers, in writing the constitution, specifically stated that the appropriations for our State institutions of higher learning should be made by the Legislature. In short, that our schools should be in the hands of politics. In taking this view, our early statemen exercised wisdom and foresight. Since the support of these schools comes from the people, it is but right that the people should have a voice in their financial control. But some say that the Legislature do not appreciate the value of these schools and refuse to adequately provide for them. Then, it is up to the schools to educate the Legislature on this matter. It should be a case of the schools lifting up the Legislature to a higher standard. We believe the Legislature should continue to have financial control over these schools. There is no such thing as "taking the schools out of politics." There is always plenty of politics in organizations of every kind.—"Ty" C.

THE HIT DOG HOWLS

"Things are in an awful shape out where I've been," replied the visitor to Farm and Ranch office, in reply to our question.

"I heard three men talking the other day, and they were agreed that business has gone to the dogs; they said prohibition was the worst thing that ever happened, and that farmers spent all their money buying radios and automobiles, and galloping all over the State during the summer instead of staying at home and tending to business. They voted unanimously that politics was rotten and was run by a clique of big bums; their town was dead and they didn't see why the stores didn't fire their clerks and close their doors; the banks, they said, had plenty of money, but there was none in circulation. Then there was a smart-Aleck district attorney trying to send Bill Buster to the pen, just because he got teed up a little and ran his car over another man, and Bill's a good feller, too. There's no doubt these boys are up against it hard," he concluded.

By this time we were sitting on the chair gasping for breath. We felt better a minute later, however, when the visitor explained who the gloom-hounds were.

"One was a hamburger man, one a taxi driver and the other a bootlegger."

My community is the place where my home is founded, where my children are educated, where my income is earned, where my friends dwell, and where my life is chiefly lived. I have chosen it, after due consideration, from among all the places on earth. It is the home spot for me. Here let me live until death claims me. Then let my neighbors say I was a friend to man.—Farm Bureau News.

H. G. Perry, editor of the Junction Eagle has sold his interest to the Junction Publishing Company and the paper will be edited by Weaver H. Baker. Editor Perry is to take a vacation, after which he will then decide what line of business he will follow. Wherever he goes and what ever he undertakes, we wish for him success in his new field of endeavors.

Some one has said reputation is what people think you are and character is what you really are. So that as it may, both should be jealously guarded and well taken care of—a slight deviation can damage either beyond repair.

The farmer who planted good seed is realizing the wisdom of it today for as a result he is receiving a premium on his cotton over the short staple offered. These are facts not just hearsay.

COLDTEST WEATHER FOR SEPTEMBER EVER TO BE REGISTERED IN BRYAN
Winters first blast was felt in Bryan Saturday night when the thermometer dropped to 58 degrees. The highest point reached on Saturday was 94 degrees, making a drop of 36 degrees in less than 12 hours. It is said by those who have kept a record for the past ten years to be the coldest weather ever registered in Bryan for September.

Ed Curik Believes In Diversification Of Farm Products

"We grow what we need for our own use on the farm, so if the cotton crop is a failure we have a living anyway," said Ed Curik, of near Wheelock, twenty-three miles from Bryan, who was in town today trading with Bryan merchants. Mr. Curik was accompanied to Bryan by Frank Jancik.

Mr. Curik owns his own farm of 45 acres. This year he had 22 acres planted to cotton and has already gathered 10 bales, with more to be picked. When questioned as to feed stuffs he said: "I have enough corn and sorghum to last me two years." "Yes, I believe in diversification," he said and not only believe in it but practice it. We have on our farm 4 hogs, 2 cows, and 100 chickens, which furnish plenty of meat, butter, milk and eggs for our family all during the year. In a good garden this year we grew enough vegetables to use and canned the surplus to use during the winter. If every farmer in Brazos county would use this same kind of policy in his farming the low price of cotton would not bring such disaster to the farmers.

Saturday Good Day With Our Merchants

Saturday was an unusually good day with Bryan merchants, according to W. R. Thomas of the Fair store. He states that his store was so busy that his clerks were kept on the run.

"However, I wish week-day business was better. It would be more convenient if the Saturday rush were spread out over two or three days," stated Mr. Thomas.

Caldwell Loses Big Gin Plant By Fire

CALDWELL, Sept. 28.—The large gin plant located near the city pumping station and owned by G. A. Wolman was destroyed by fire at 1 a. m. Saturday, with a loss placed at $13,000, with $6,500 insurance.

Thirty tons of cottonseed, owned by the Womble Oil Mill Company, a wagon loaded with unginned cotton, owned by Judge W. M. Hilliard; one bale of cotton owned by E. W. Beran and John Strue, were also burned.

The high tension electric line of the Western Public Service Company were burned in two, causing the town to be in darkness for a short time. The cause of the fire has not been determined.

Oil Well Draws Many Visitors

A continuous stream of visitors poured into the oil well area on the Vick farm Sunday. Hundreds of men and women from Bryan were there, as well as scores of visitors from neighboring towns.

Julius Germany, of Dallas, who is interested financially in the well, drove down from Dallas Saturday night in company with his daughter, Miss Martha Germany, to watch its progress.

The well is now down more than 1800 feet. Although the drilling is going smoothly, Mr. Germany said they should be down at least 1800 feet. Considerable rock has been encountered. Mr. Germany, who has had many years of experience in the oil game, says he is quite hopeful that the Bryan well will be a gusher.

Up to the close of business Saturday night the warehouses in Bryan showed the following, with round bales being counted as half bales:
Farmers' Union Warehouse, 5,513.
Lawrence Warehouse, 4,138.
Eden's Gin, 850 round bales and 12 square, making 487 bales.
Total, 10,088 bales.
This does not include the number of bales that are brought to Bryan and compressed.

Bryan Gets 10,088 Bales of Cotton

The cotton crop in Brazos county is steadily coming in and is limited only to the number of pickers to be had. Most of the fields are fully open and white unto harvest, but the pickers are few.

Worthy of Notice!

Do you realize that HOUSTON is fast becoming the largest city of the South—that skyscrapers from 15 to 36 stories are springing up all over the city—that within a few short years it has become one of the largest cotton ports in the world?

Houston is also the oil and lumber center of South Texas and is increasing in population faster than any city in the State. Greater Houston's building last year was the greatest in the State—over forty million dollars—and up to date it is running ahead of last year. Real estate values are increasing by leaps and bounds, and men who are in position to know do not hesitate to predict that Houston in a few years will become the Chicago of the South.

Knowing this as we do, you certainly must realize that real estate investments in and around Houston will certainly reap large profits for those who are wise enough to take advantage of the opportunity now offered. It takes a lot of money to buy inside real estate in Houston because the boom has already hit it, and values are sky high, but you still have a wonderful opportunity to invest in Suburban property, and especially in BAY SHORE property, from which you are sure to reap large profits.

Houston can become a city of a million population, and there will always be ample Suburban property, but when you talk about SHIP CHANNEL and WATER FRONT property on the BAY, that is another matter.

There is only a LIMITED AMOUNT of desirable undeveloped BAY SHORE property, and the demand is increasing every day; therefore, we do not hesitate in predicting that within a few short years BAY SHORE property near Houston will sell like other beach property in other parts of the United States, and bring prices that would seem like a dream to us today.

We Take This Opportunity of Calling Your Attention to

CLIFTON-BY-THE-SEA

One of Houston's choicest BAY SHORE resorts, which overlooks the Bay from a high bluff, enjoys the finest fishing and bathing in this section, has one of the finest Bath Houses and Dancing Pavilions on the Texas coast—has a three thousand foot Park along the Water Front, has nearly one hundred summer homes, and is one of the fastest growing Pleasure Resorts on the Bay.

For a limited time desirable Bay Shore lots are being offered at about half the price being asked by others for less desirable property. You can buy choice lots from $100 to $250 each on terms as low as $5 cash and $5 per month. This offers a wonderful investment as these lots are sure to increase in value very fast within the next two or three years.

Mail us the coupon below and we will be glad to furnish you literature and complete information. Do not hesitate! You can buy one or two of these lots with the money you are throwing away, and in a few years they will be worth many times the price of today.

Buy now while the prices are low and terms are easy.

Howell Honored By East Texas Commerce Body

R. M. Kelly, president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce has named W. S. Howell a member of the standing committee of the Agricultural department of that organization to cooperate with the Agricultural Manager J. E. Stanford. The outstanding work Mr. Howell has accomplished for the betterment of agricultural interests through the sponsoring of the Howell Lumber Company Free Agricultural Fair each year has brought him recognition as a leader from other parts of the state. This is a worthy honor worthily bestowed and will be worthily worn, according to his friends.

Former Rector of Saint Andrew's Now At College

Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Daup have arrived on the Campus at A. and M. College from their former home in Fort Wayne, Indiana and will take charge of the Episcopal Group Church work at that institution. Rev. Daup was former rector of Saint Andrew's Episcopal Church in Bryan and a wide circle of friends and acquaintance rejoice that he and his good wife have returned to Texas and to College to make their home.

Stinnett Thinks Cotton Problems Can Be Solved By Right Marketing

That co-operative marketing and orderly marketing offers the only solution to a repetition of the recent severe decline in the cotton market, was the statement made here today by G. W. Stinnett, district representative of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association. "The market during the past thirty days has suffered a decline of $20 a bale," he said, "and this amount must be borne in full by every cotton grower, his banker, and merchant. 'Through co-operative marketing and price stabilization,' he stated, 'the grower, banker and merchant would not only benefit through full returns on their quality cotton, but the season's average price as well.' That local and state business has been crippled through the recent decline was also brought out by Mr. Stinnett, who stated that 'whenever the cotton producer is forced to dispose of his cotton for less than the cost of production, debt paying power must suffer and purchasing power stop.' If this county produces 10,000 more bales this season, the recent decline of approximately $20 a bale will cost the county the amazing and startling sum of $200,000, he said.

Indigestion bad spells relieved

"NOTHING can take the place of Theodor's Black-Draught with us because we have never found anything at once so mild and so effective," says Mrs. Hugh Nichols, R. F. D. 4, Princeton, Ky. "When the children have spells of indigestion and upset stomachs, I always straighten them out with a dose or two of Black-Draught. 'Several times I have suffered with bad spells of indigestion myself and found I would soon get relief if I took a course of Black-Draught. I was troubled with a bad accumulation of gas and severe pains across my stomach and lower bowels. Now when I had a spell of this kind coming on, I head it off by taking Black-Draught—a dose every night for a few nights will prevent the trouble and save me much pain and suffering. My whole family uses Black-Draught for biliousness and constipation. It is a splendid medicine.' 25¢ a splendid medicine. 25¢ a splendid medicine. 25¢ a splendid medicine."

BRYAN SETS LEAD FOR OTHER TEXAS TOWNS

"I understand you have had your agricultural fair. We are contemplating pulling a similar stunt at Lyford. If you can give me a detailed report on this and offer any suggestions as to how to pull it, I will appreciate it," writes Thos. W. Blake, president of the Thos. W. Blake Lumber Co. of Houston, to W. S. Howell, who sponsored the Howell Lumber Company Free Fair. Bryan, as usual, is setting the lead for other towns throughout the State to follow.

Harvey

(Special to The Eagle). HARVEY, Sept. 30.—Every one enjoyed the cool bracing temperature of our first norther on Sunday. Cloaks were in evidence Saturday night at the meeting of the "Literary Society." Our president, Douglas Peters is quite discouraged in his efforts to carry on the society successfully, when so many fail to take an interest, and only a few numbers are carried out. Its true that sickness prevented several members from being present, but unless each feels his responsibility to carry out the part allotted to him or her, it will never be a great success. Quite a number from Harvey attended the Howell Lumber Company Fair in Bryan, but none took an exhibit. We should begin to think about it and prepare some exhibits for the next one, for we are sure there are many things Harvey could exhibit in every line. Mrs. Edgar Peters told us in the summer that she put over 200 jars in preserves and canned goods. Much attention also is being paid to raising of fine chickens. We should get up a community exhibit next year if nothing else. Noah Cole has ginned about 300 bales of cotton or more, and it is still coming in and many of the fields are snowy white yet. The small grain and corn crop have been unusually good this year. So we have much to be thankful for.

An all day meeting at Bethel church was held Sunday to wind up all the church business before the association meets soon. Dinner was served under the spreading oaks. Misses Alma and Blanche Hensley for mAnderson were week-end visitors to their friend, Miss Mary Floyd the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edge and little daughter, Linette, came out from Bryan Sunday to visit Clyde Goen's family and help celebrate the fifth birthday of Mrs. Edge's little nephew, Oliver Goen. Mrs. K. P. Trant and two little sons, and Miss Icy Goen were guests in the C. F. Goen home Sunday afternoon.

Miss Iris Dyess is to be removed from the Bryan Hospital today to her home three miles west of Harvey.

Misses Julia and Lois Wilcox were guests of their aunt, Mrs. Peters this week-end. We have the best cotton crop we have made in Harvey in years, and though the leaf worm ate all the leaves off they did not seem to decrease the yield of cotton. The fields are white with the fleecy lint. Irwin Todd had a half bale of lint cotton stolen from him last week. Apparently the thief drove in to the field in a truck and loaded it from a pile. No trace of the thief has yet been found.

Miss Iris Dyess was operated on for appendicitis in Bryan Hospital a few days since. She was doing well, last account.

The Literary Society will meet again Saturday night at 8 p. m. Every one is cordially invited to these meetings. Some of the programs are very interesting, when those on the program carry out their parts.

Mr. and Mrs. Reece Lutrick returned to the home in Amarillo last week after a week's visit to the latter's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Davidson.

Mrs. J. C. Davidson attended the Zone Mission Meeting in Bryan Thursday. An all day meeting was held. Many interesting and instructive papers were read and talks made by the leaders from the different auxiliaries over the county. A most delicious and bountiful lunch was spread in the young mens class room at noon which was highly enjoyed by all. Mrs. Noah Cole has been sick lately, but is better now.

On account of ill health Rev. James Brown had to resign his pastorate at Bright Light. His members gave him a shower of home canned fruits and vegetables on the day of his retirement. He has the prayers of the community that he will soon be restored to health.

The Eagle gives all the news.

EDITOR OF FARM AND RANCH VISITOR AT HOWELL CO. FAIR

"A good community exhibit as I have seen anywhere," said Frank A. Bridges, editor of the Farm and Ranch, who is a visitor in Bryan and College today and attending the Howell Lumber Company Free Agricultural Fair. Mr. Bridges is gathering data for articles, which will appear in the Farm and Ranch from time to time. The Farm and Ranch recognizes the great benefit the farmers of Brazos county will reap from the exhibiting of their community products at a fair and are going to take the message to other communities to go and do likewise.

Christian Church Building Soon to Be Ready for Use

The Christian church building is moving along nicely. The first unit will soon be completed and ready for use. The church appreciates the help of every one of the friends. A goodly number are expressing their faith by substantial gifts. Goodwill is worth much to a church. The Christian church seems to have the good will in the unfortunate happening in losing their building. The pastor, Rev. Ament, seems to be pleased with the progress.

Boone Prairie

(Special to The Eagle). BOONE PRAIRIE, Sept. 28.—It seems like winter is coming again, as we are having a cool norther at the present. Miss Ida Mae McDaniel of Kossow spent the week-end with her cousin, Clara Mae McDaniel. Asma Simms spent the week-end with Anna Bell of Prairie Grove. Edna and Ollie Mae Bray spent Sunday with their brother, Howard Bray.

Mr. and Mrs. Cat Rogers of Post Oak spent Sunday with their parents, H. L. Mitchell and family. Mrs. Pete Merryman spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Will Shipper. Raymond Richardson spent the past week-end with Julian Allee. Miss Ruby Connell and Sam Simms were quietly married Sunday afternoon at Bald Prairie. They will make their home with his mother, Mrs. Kate Simms. Henry Ellison visited the home home Sunday.

Claude Allee made a fine talk at the West Boone Church of Christ Sunday night. Henry Ellison made an interesting talk here the past week. We are all proud of our young folks, as they are taking so much interest in the Bible work.

Ollie Mae Bray and Clara Lee Ellison spent one day the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Simms.

Edgar Wood visited his uncle, Ed Bray, Sunday. Sam Merryman of Beck Prairie made his usual trip to the Baker home Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Thedo Shipper of Willow Creek visited their grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Johnson, Sunday.

Evening Journal, Jr. To Be Issued At Fair

A letter from our old friend, Harry W. Maxwell of the Dallas News and Evening Journal publications, gives the information that the Evening Journal Jr. will again be issued this year during the Fair. He asks us to name editors for the special Texas Press Association issue to be printed on Monday, October 11th. The following have been named as the staff for the special issue and we would suggest that any items of interest be sent by the craft to these various ones for publication in that issue:

News editor, Sam C. Holloway, Times, Detroit.

Legislative Editor, Ray Holder, Herald, Lancaster.

Society Editor, Miss Cara Mae McKee, Citizen, Frankston.

Sporting Editor, Carson P. Harben, Echo, Richardson.

Special Staff Correspondents: Jim Lowry, Honey Grove; W. C. Edwards, Denton; Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, Bryan; Sam For Jr., Floresville; Clyde Warwick, Canyon; Frank Grimes, Abilene; and Billie Smith, San Saba.—State Fair Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mikesky and W. K. Janick and daughter, Miss Ella all of Caldwell, spent the week-end in Bryan, guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Janick. Mrs. Mikesky is a sister of Mr. Janick.

BRAZOS COUNTY Boys' and Girls' Club Department Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Season

Club Boys And Girls Win.

Club boys and girls took their share of the prizes at the Howell Lumber Company fair on last Saturday, Arthur Yeager of Kurten taking first place with grain sorghums with Emil Gerke a close second; Wallace Sabo first with white corn, and Woodrow Walker taking first with yellow corn. Johnnie Perrone, Arnold Murray, Virginia Kurten, Annie and Fannie Locke, Pansy Sousars, Edith Conway, and others sharing bountifully in the award of prizes. It used to be that a separate department had to be provided at fairs for club boys and girls in order that they might have a chance to win, but such is no longer the case. Their work has become so efficient that they are able to meet the keenest competition.

Millican Club Meets.

Millican will have her regular community club meeting on next Thursday night, September 30. The wonderful exhibit made by J. D. Steele at the Howell fair will certainly serve to arouse the Millican people to a consciousness of the opportunities. If one man, single handed and alone, can put up such a fine exhibit, what could an entire community, working in harmony, do?

Shows Team Work.

V. J. Boriskie, while working in the interest of the Shirock community exhibit, lost an opportunity to win individual prizes, but his unselfishness served to show his people the results of community team work. Like most men, Victor says his wife picked the poultry which had a slight disqualification.

Poultry Show Next.

All aboard for the big Poultry Show December 9-10-11. Every one interested in better poultry, an industry which has proved profitable when properly handled, should lend encouragement to this poultry show. If you have good poultry, get in trim for the show. If you have no poultry, make it a point to visit the show and boost the work by your presence.

From Boll Weevil.

R. R. Reppert, entomologist of the Extension Service, quotes the following interesting letter from "Uncle Billy Boll Weevil": "Please leave me some green cotton to eat this fall." "I got 800,000 bales of the Texas cotton this year. What did you farmers get?" "Have any of you farmers a nice weedy fence row for me this winter?" "I have had a fine time in cotton fields this summer, but winter is coming on and I hope you farmers keep me well fed on green cotton this fall and keep some trash about your farm for a warm hiding place this winter."

"There aint many of us weevils that can live until spring, but we can multiply into the millions by July." "I got a lot of trash along the ditch picked out to spend my winter." The leaf worm did not leave much, but it is enough to feed me until frost."

Prepare for Winter.

Have you prepared for winter grazing for poultry and livestock during the coming winter months? Don't neglect. Do it now.

Uses Wood Ashes.

Robert Davidson of Edge has obtained fine results from the use of wood ashes along with his other fertilizer, thus indicating that his land needs additional potash. Mr. Davidson plans to make some fertilizer tests next year. Many farmers ought to do the same thing, if they desire to ascertain plant food deficiencies in their soil.

Watch Reports.

Four farmers are making fertilizer tests this year with phosphate and nitrate of soda, their reports being forthcoming in the near future. Watch these columns.

Brazos Boys And Girls Make Fine Farming Record

"The best bunch of workers I know of anywhere" is the way Sam Cavitt characterized the children of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pruitt. Mr. Pruitt is blacksmith on the Cavitt ranch and has five children, 3 girls and two boys all under 14 years of age.

The first of the year Mr. Cavitt gave these five children 21 acres to farm on the halves, he furnishing the land and equipment and the children the work. They did all the plowing, planting, chopping and cultivating themselves. Up to date they have 9 bales of cotton picked and marketed and 4 more to gather. Besides this they did plowing and chopping for other tenants. Whether you believe it or not they did not miss one day from the seven months school. Can you beat this record? If so we would like to hear from you. These children have had no club training or community work.

DALLAS NEWS MISREPRESENTS COTTON SITUATION—BRAZOS COUNTY IS ON STAPLE BASIS

Brazos county and Bryan have been done a rank injustice by Victor H. Schoffelmayer, agricultural editor of the Dallas News. In a prominent article in Sunday's News by Mr. Schoffelmayer states that a survey of the counties of Texas shows that few counties have staple cotton markets.

To quote from the News: "The News has made a survey of the staple markets of Texas and has found only 46 counties where is generally sold on a distinction between short staple and better staple, or on its merits. "Brazos county—No staple markets. No arrangements for marketing staple cotton grown in contest and cotton is marketed in the 'hog-roud' lots."

No greater injustice could as an incentive to spur them on to do their best. As tangible evidence of the results of their labors, they today are sporting a new 5-passenger automobile, all their own, for it was paid for in cash, and still have a bank account.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT

Bryan friends received by today's mail handsome invitations from Mr. and Mrs. A. Cavitt Love to attend the marriage of their daughter, Ada Jeanne, to Leslie Lawrence Bonner, of Beaumont, on Tuesday evening, October twelfth, nineteen hundred and twenty-six, at seven o'clock, First Baptist Church, Beaumont. Miss Love formerly lived in Bryan and has many friends here who extend congratulations and good wishes.

Every Tree Uprooted.

"Every tree for miles is torn and fallen and the roots turned up to the light. The majority of roofs and many of the walls all over the city are blown off and blown away. Miami, the beautiful and attractive city of the east coast, is a wreck and a ruin, and not a house, left which is not damaged. Beautiful Coral Gables, the pride of Florida, is laid waste."

In speaking of the situation, John M. Lawrence, local cotton dealer, stated Monday: "Bryan has been recognized for many years as a staple market. The only cotton that is sold 'hog-roud' is cotton from large plantations that is raised by one landlord but several tenants, and the grade and staple are practically the same."

"Friday, September 24, cotton sold in this market as high as 16 1-8 cents which proves beyond question of doubt that it was staple that brought the price. We are paying the same price today for the best staple cotton," he declared.

FORMER BRYAN WOMAN GIVES GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF THE TRAGEDIES OF FLORIDA STORM

Hospitals Overrun.

"The hurricane hit Miami at about eleven o'clock Friday night, and blew with unabated fury until eight o'clock Saturday morning. Then, there was a lull of perhaps an hour and the storm swept back over the city from the south, and raged with increasing terror until about four o'clock Saturday afternoon, the down pour of rain continuing until nearly noon Sunday morning. As you know, our apartment has a screened sun porch on the south, and the high wind and storm of rain and flood water, first blew out the sun parlor windows and screens, letting the storm in. This obstruction being removed, the awnings crashing and the awning rods battered out the glass windows of our apartment. Not long afterwards, the storm tore away a part of the roof of the three-story building and torrents of water poured in. We all swept the water out as fast as we could to keep from drowning, in spite of our efforts.

Lights Flash Out.

"I must not forget to tell you that on that awful night, when death stared us all in the face, and the storm raged in its mad fury, the electric current was broken, and the city was plunged into black darkness, to add to our already terrible condition. That was Friday night and this is Monday and we are still without lights and water. Luckily, our ice chest was full of ice, and we had the ice drippings to drink, but for that I don't know what we would have done. The candle supply in the city was so low that each householder was allowed only two and you could not purchase more at any store.

"But, mother, the sun is shining bright this morning, and we are drying out the rooms and the furniture and our clothes as best we can and are thankful that our lives have been spared, when so many left here crippled and maimed for life. Truly, God has been good to us."
